++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunshine and showers for many. Rather cold, some night frost.

Today:
Many areas starting bright and chilly. Sunny spells continuing but clouds bubbling up, with showers breaking out for some. The odd heavy shower possible but some parts will escape, especially coasts this afternoon. Light winds, so feeling reasonable in sunshine.

Tonight:
Showers fading once more, except in some coastal areas. Many parts becoming dry with clear periods, leading to yet another cold night, with some frost and a few fog patches.

Sunday:
Not much change, with another day of sunshine and scattered showers across most areas. The odd heavy shower but some places remaining dry. Feeling a little warmer in light winds.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
After a bright start, wet and windy for most on Monday, strongest winds in the south. A return to sunshine and showers from Tuesday. Remaining chilly with some night frost.
